TAFT LETTER ON GLAVIS CHARGES PENNED BY LAWLER, SAYS STENOGRAPHER

Ballinger Was In Conference Over Draft Of Letter—Attorney General Sends Copy To Probe Committee

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Attorney General Wickersham today sent the so-called Lawler memorandum to the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee.

Story of Letter Is Told

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—Frederick M. Kerby, a stenographer in Secretary Ballinger's office, in a signed statement declares: "The 'Lawler Memoranda' about which there has been so much discussion recently in the Pinchot-Ballinger inquiry, was a letter evidently intended as the basis for the letter written by President Taft exonerating Ballinger, answering the Glavis charges, according to a special dispatch from Washington to the Daily News.

The letter was taken when Oscar Lawler, assistant attorney general for the Interior Department, went to Beverly, Mass., to consult President Taft shortly before Taft's letter was issued. It was revised, Kerby stated, by those most interested, including Secretary Ballinger. Kerby's statement was made to representatives of the Scripps-McRae newspapers. The News special statement follows:

"James G. Massey and myself, who had served under Secretary Garfield, were retained by Secretary Ballinger when he became attorney general. On June, 1909, we started with Ballinger and his private secretary, Don Carr, on a tour to the Northwest. Ballinger got a letter from President Taft, containing the Glavis charges, and requesting an answer. We immediately returned to Washington and worked on Ballinger's reply across the continent. We arrived at Washington on Friday. On Monday Secretary Ballinger and Lawler went to Beverly, returning Thursday. Lawler took quarters in Ballinger's office and dictated to Massey and me.

"It was obvious what the dictation was intended to be. There was no attempt at concealment. The letter began, 'Sir,' and it referred to Ballinger as 'You,' and used the pronoun 'I' throughout. From the context it was evident that 'I' could only be President Taft himself. There could be Frederick M. Kerby."

CONCEDED THAT ANGLE WILL BE NEW CHAIRMAN OF BOARD

The first business to come before the Board of Supervisors on Tuesday morning will be the election of a chairman to take the place of Dr. D. A. MacMullen, who died at Needles on May 11. During the last year whenever MacMullen was absent, Supervisor Angle served as chairman pro tem. There seems to be no question but what he will be elected chairman at Tuesday's meeting.

As yet little has been done by those who are or will be interested in the appointment of a successor to Dr.

MacMullen from his district. Next week, however, the matter will be taken up, and it will probably be but a short time until an appointment is made by Lieutenant Governor Porter, who is acting governor during Governor Gillett's absence from the state.

Fred Struck, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination in August, will undoubtedly seek the appointment. There is some talk that Dr. D. F. Royer of Orange may be urged to enter, and it is said that some of the central committeemen from his district favor Dr. Royer.

OPEN AIR CONCERT AT 8 THIS EVENING

Santa Ana City Band Will Give Complimentary Concert on Main and Fourth

The first open air concert of this year to be given by the Santa Ana City Band will take place tonight at the corner of Main and Fourth streets, beginning at 8 o'clock. The concert is complimentary to the city council and the M. & M. Association and is given preparatory to the concerts to be given during the 1910 summer season. Popular airs will help make up an acceptable program for this initiatory musical affair and it is expected that a large crowd will welcome the band at its opening number. Windows overlooking the players will doubtless be at a premium.

WEATHER FORECAST
Fair and warmer tonight and Sunday. Light north wind.

SOCIALISTS HAVE STORMY SESSION

Asiatic Exclusion or Unlimited Immigration Are Bones of Contention

CHICAGO, May 14.—The closed door for Asiatics, involving a split in the International Socialist party, or the advocacy of unlimited immigration in opposition to the American Federation of Labor policy, is the issue expected as the result of stormy sessions of the National Socialist convention opening here Sunday.

The Pacific coast delegates are primed to fight to a finish for Asiatic exclusion, and it is believed this question will be the issue of the convention.

SKELLY'S YARD IS ATTACHED

Odd Fellows Sue for $474.50, Lumber Company for $1025.00

Sheriff Lacy Hears Vague Rumor and Takes Prisoner to County Jail

Frank F. Skelly, charged with wife-murder, was made defendant in two attachment suits yesterday. The papers in both cases were served upon Skelly at the Santa Ana Hospital by Sheriff Lacy, who also put under attachment Skelly's lumber yard at Westminster.

One suit was brought by the Odd Fellows Lodge of Westminster for $474.50. Skelly is treasurer of that lodge, and held that amount of the lodge's money. Fearing that Skelly's troubles might ruin him financially, the lodge officers concluded that they should cover the lodge. Hence the action. This attachment was first served.

The second suit was brought by the San Pedro Lumber Co., presumably for lumber bought by Skelly. The amount of the demand is $1025.

Yesterday evening vague rumors reached the ears of Sheriff Lacy that some attempt might be made to take Skelly from the hospital and lynch him. These rumors were extremely indefinite, and the sheriff was unable to get any reliable word concerning them. Although he did not believe there was any such movement afoot, he decided to be on the safe side, and at 8:30 last night Skelly was taken from the hospital to the county jail, where he was kept in charge of a nurse.

Skelly's lumber yard is in litigation in a suit brought by James A. McFadden, his former partner, who is suing for division. This suit was brought several weeks ago.

GOV. HASKELL WILL BE TRIED IN JUNE

President and Wickersham Decide to Push Matter of Prosecution

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Following a conference of the president and Attorney General Wickersham today it was decided to push the prosecution of Governor Charles N. Haskell of Oklahoma, indicted in connection with alleged fraudulent scheduling of townsites located on Indian reservations.

"The surest way to learn whether justice was done," Wickersham said, "is to submit the matter to a jury."

It is expected the Haskell cases will be heard early in June. The cases have already caused a series of sharp legal skirmishes. When the indictments were first returned charges of unfair practices were made by Governor Haskell's attorneys.

BOY IS ACCUSED OF SERIOUS OFFENSE

Ed. Wilderfelt will be taken before Justice Smithwick Monday on a charge of indecent exposure. It is believed he planned a vendetta against Winifred McCardia, aged 12, Thursday afternoon. He had a wire across a road, while he was hiding behind a clump of willows. He stretched the wire too late, and the girl, whom he probably expected to trip, ran home. Wilderfelt was arrested as he was returning yesterday to get a pair of socks and a pruning-shears he had left the day before. He is weak-minded. It is hoped to turn him over to his father, a railroad man in Mexico.

WILD SCENES AFTER ACQUITTAL OF HEINZE

NEW YORK, May 13.—Fritz Augustus Heinze walked out of the criminal branch of the United States Circuit Court at 10 o'clock tonight a free man, the jury having declared that he had not, as president of the Mercantile National Bank, over-certified $500,000 in checks for his brother's brokerage firm, nor had he misapplied the money to further any conspiracy to exploit United Copper.

Heinze could not have gotten out of the courtroom before had he used all of his powerful strength. He was kissed and embraced by weeping women relatives and the friends of those relatives; he was hugged by men, slapped on the shoulders, clasped in the hand, pushed, shoved and pounced, to the accompaniment of cheering which court officers could not subdue, until, with tears running down his cheeks and lips quivering, he could only murmur brokenly, "Thank you; thank you."

NATIONS ARE ALL TO SHARE

Agreement Reached on the Financing of Canton-Hankow Railway

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The leading financial groups of America, England, Germany and France have reached an agreement for financing the Canton-Hankow railway loan. Only the unimportant details have not been consummated.

America's share in the loan will be seven millions. American engineers and material will be employed.

JURY DISAGREES IN DR. HYDE CASE

Judge Latshaw Twice Returns Jurymen—Will Keep Them Till Tuesday

KANSAS CITY, May 14.—When the jury trying Dr. Hyde for the alleged murder of Col. Swope filed into court this morning, it was announced that it had failed to reach a verdict. According to courtroom report, four found for acquittal and two for murder in the first degree, with a life sentence punishment, the remainder favoring murder in the second degree.

The defendant, Dr. Hyde, slept soundly last night. Mrs. Hyde visited the jail early this morning.

Again Report Disagreement At 11:10 o'clock the jury again reported "no agreement," with little probability of reaching an early verdict. Judge Latshaw stated that he will hold the jury until Tuesday if necessary, and the men were again locked up.

When the jurors returned from lunch it was noted that Juror Frank P. Hodges sat apart, apparently thinking deeply. This revived the rumor that eleven jurors were for acquittal and one for conviction.

TONY SILVA CAUGHT AFTER WEEKS WAITING

Anxiety to Quit His Job and be Gone Caused His Arrest Yesterday

Tony Silva, after all these weeks of keeping out of sight, has been caught and fined for defrauding a livery stable keeper. Silva hired a rig from the Iowa Stables and deserted the outfit on the mesa this side of Newport Beach. The horse came into town alone. The buggy was found on the mesa with whip and robe missing. A warrant was out for Silva, but he was not found until yesterday.

Constable Jackson was driving near Von Schriltz's place southwest of Santa Ana when he met a man driving one of Von Schriltz's teams. The man answered the description of Silva, whom Jackson had never seen. When questioned he declared his name was not Silva, but he knew Tony Silva over at Long Beach.

Jackson let the man go, convinced by his manner that he was Silva. Silva went to Von Schriltz, asked for his pay at once, saying he wanted to go. On learning this Jackson felt certain he was correct in his surmises, and he arrested Silva.

Silva settled with the Iowa Stables for the damage done, and paid Justice of the Peace Smithwick a fine of $5.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT IN TWENTY-FOUR HOUR RACE

BRIGHTON BEACH, N. Y., May 14.—William Endicott and Mechanician Magruder of the Cole car, were seriously injured when the machine collapsed in the twenty-four hour race today. Both will probably recover. This was the second serious accident of the race.

A GREAT DAY FOR FISHERMEN TODAY

Fishermen at Newport Beach are in clover today, if catching fish as fast as they are able. Mackeral and kingfish are being taken off the wharf by the hundred. One man had a full sack full and was still stacking them up. The tide was very low this morning and the ocean calm. About sixty people were fishing off the wharf this morning.

MAY COMPLETE CENSUS TODAY

Enumerators Believe the Work Can be Finished Before Night Comes

CITY HAS LARGE NUMBER OF HOUSES WHERE NO CHILDREN ARE TO BE FOUND

The Santa Ana census enumerators will probably complete their work today. The enumerators had a meeting at the Merchant & Manufacturers' Association rooms last night to go over the situation, and it was their opinion that an extension of time beyond today would not be necessary. However, it was decided that should it be found, after today's work was well in hand, that the census could not be completed, the census supervisor would be asked for an extension of time.

The Merchants & Manufacturers' Association has done good work in assisting in the count. The committee by its system has added many names to the rolls. This afternoon the association will put an automobile at the service of the enumerators to round-up any reported at the last as counted.

Guesses as to what the enumeration will show vary greatly, generally running between 7500 and 9500, and even up to 10,000. The census enumerators have, of course, found the conditions the same as they have been noted by School Census Marshal Merigold in his work each year during his service year after year. Merigold says that there is a large proportion of houses in this city that have but two persons in them, man and wife, generally retired from active work, who have come here to live free from blizzards, forty-below-zero, heat prostration and such like. That the man and wife represent the household does not mean that they are object lessons of race suicide. In most instances there are children, married and settled down at the old home town "back East."

The defendant, Dr. Hyde, slept soundly last night. Mrs. Hyde visited the jail early this morning.

HUNTERS TALKED OF AFRICAN GAME

Roosevelt and Grew Had Many Reminiscences After Their Luncheon Together

BERLIN, May 14.—Colonel Roosevelt lunched today with Joseph C. Grew, first assistant secretary of the American embassy. Grew is an African hunter and they discussed the Colonel's African trip.

In the afternoon Col. Roosevelt visited the Zoological Gardens. He is not decided when he will start for London.

GRAY'S RANCH IS UNDER ATTACHMENT

Sheriff Lacy today recorded a notice of attachment in an Imperial county suit in which J. T. Walker is plaintiff and Willard C. and Olive Gray are defendants. The suit is for $1531.60. The lands attached lie in section 18, township 3 south, range 8 west.

ATTENDING FUNERAL OF DR. MACMULLEN

STORMY PROTEST RISES OVER SEALING OF MINE

WHITEHAVEN, Eng., May 14.—A storm of protest was raised today when Lord Lonsdale, owner of the Wellington mine, one hundred and thirty-seven miners were entombed by an explosion, ordered the mine to remain sealed until the fire die out.

The police had difficulty in restraining the families of the imprisoned men from attacking the owner.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION WILL NOT OBEY UNJUST DECISION

Says That Working of Telegraphers For 13 Hours Is Dangerous To the Lives of Passengers

CHICAGO, May 14.—The Interstate Commerce Commission through Secretary Frank Moseley has notified the various railroad companies that the Commission will not recognize the decision of Judge Grosscup in regard to the circuit court of appeals in the sixteen-hour labor case.

The railroad companies were also served with a notice that the Commission will prosecute in regard to the circuit court of appeals in the sixteen-hour labor case.

The Commission insisted that thirteen hours were too much, making the operators liable to mistakes and endangering the lives of passengers.

Indian Outbreak--Taft Sends Troops To Scene

WASHINGTON, May 14.—A troop of cavalry was today ordered from Fort Wingate to drive the Taos Indians, reported rebelling in New Mexico, back to the reservations. The order followed a conference between the President and Secretary of War Dickinson. President Taft was unwilling to permit the territorial militia to control the situation.

Thursday the Indians raided several homesteads north of Taos, cut fences and assaulted the wife and children of a homesteader named L. S. Meyers. Feeling at Taos against the Indians is intense. The Indians are driving off stock from ranches, and have cut all the telegraph wires.

GRAFTERS AT MERCY OF LAW

RAY DESMOND Arrested in San Francisco to be Returned Here

Constable Jackson started this morning for San Francisco to bring back to this city Ray Desmond, on a charge of wife-desertion.

Desmond was an Electric company lineman. Until a week ago he lived here with his wife. His mother seemed to be a disturbing element, according to the story told by his wife.

The wife says that a week ago Desmond told her he had lost his job, and would have to go forth and hustle for one. She said that she would hustle for one for herself until he got located. She got a position at Long Beach. Hardly had she become settled before she got her trunk, sent her by her husband, and a note saying she would see no more of him. The mother went with the son.

The wife swore to a complaint. On information sent by Constable Jackson, Desmond was arrested in San Francisco.

ONCE AGAIN ABOUT THAT S.A.V.I. COMPANY MEETING

Editor Register.—Press of other duties prevented getting my reply to Mr. Jackman ready for last night's Register; but, since a matter is never settled until it is settled right, a day's delay will cut no figure.

Mr. Jackman and his affiants seem to confuse my ignorance of what the president is alleged to have said with their own knowledge of the same, and to act as if their swearing to what they heard would convict me of falsifying as to what I did not hear. My statement that "I knew nothing about any refusal to list proxies" and that "I myself heard no such order given," were literally true and they could not be made any more true by a thousand affidavits. These statements were made, not to discredit what others say they heard, but to disprove the imputation that I had failed to put up a job on the stockholders, or words to that effect. I have not intended at any time to question the truth of the gentlemen's statements about what the president said. Had I doubted their word, I would have gone to the president and asked him about the truth of the matter; but I did not do so. The only thing that I questioned was the conclusion drawn from my action and from that of the president, which I will consider later. The real reason for my own action was given in the following statement: "I made the motion to adjourn when it appeared there were not sufficient voices present to transact the business for which the meeting was called," and "I moved to adjourn to a future date to prolong the life of the meeting and give opportunity to collect more proxies." Surely this whole matter is so plain that even wayfaring men, though fools, need not err therein."

After claiming that I endorsed his facts, which I did only "so far as my knowledge goes," Mr. Jackman worked himself up into a frenzy as follows: "But to have him charge the chairman of the meeting with being so ignorant of his duties in a matter of so vast importance is more than good nature can stand." It is to laugh to see Mr. Jackman on his high horse rushing to the defense of the chairman against the ruthless attack of one of the most inoffensive of mortals! He goes on to say: "I resent Mr. Armor's statement, 'If the chair made such a ruling, it was an oversight on his part and cannot be charged to a desire to trample on the rights of the people.'" What is there to resent in that statement? Does it anger him to hear a probable reason given for the president's mistake rather than the invidious one suggested by himself? Perhaps he doesn't like the conditional clause at the beginning of the statement. Why, that might have been expressed in a number of different ways, such as: "Admitting that the chair made such a ruling." "Suppose that the chair made such a ruling." "Granted that the chair made such a ruling." That part of the sentence affirms nothing one way or the other; it simply introduces the assertion that "it was an oversight on his part and cannot be fairly charged to a desire to trample on the rights of the stockholders."

As the immortal Patrick Henry said, "If that be treason, then make the most of it." I do not hesitate to say that in my opinion there is not a man on the board of directors who would be a party to any job or assist in trampling on anybody's rights.

It is a principle of law that he who assails another before the bar of justice shall come into court with clean hands. People who gather proxies should arrange them in alphabetical order and answer to the roll call when each name is called. It is not fair to keep the other stockholders waiting while the roll is gone over a half dozen times or more to accommodate dilatory individuals.

Mr. Dierker's admission in his first statement that it is not necessary to have roll call in meetings called for the purpose this one was, and if his premises are correct in this, then his second and third statements are irrelevant and immaterial.

I agree with Mr. Dierker that it was not necessary to call the roll. Now for the facts. Knowing that it was not necessary to call the roll, which would require hours of time, I went to Mr. Sam Armor and asked him if he would agree not to oppose a motion, if I made it, to dispense with the roll call and proceed at once to balloting. He answered me positively that he would not agree to it and stated: "We must have the roll call." I then went to President of the Board Dierker, and urged him to rule that the roll call be dispensed with as being useless in meetings of this kind, and for him to state that balloting would be commenced at once.

Respectfully,
S. ARMOR.

JACKMAN'S REPLY TO GEORGE DIERKER

Editor Register.—After reading Mr. George Dierker's statement of the recent S.A.V.I. Co. meeting, I am constrained to beg your further indulgence in the use of your columns to get the facts now being admitted and brought out before the public.

Mr. Dierker's admission in his first statement that it is not necessary to have roll call in meetings called for the purpose this one was, and if his premises are correct in this, then his second and third statements are irrelevant and immaterial.

I agree with Mr. Dierker that it was not necessary to call the roll.

Now for the facts. Knowing that it was not necessary to call the roll, which would require hours of time, I went to Mr. Sam Armor and asked him if he would agree not to oppose a motion, if I made it, to dispense with the roll call and proceed at once to balloting. He answered me positively that he would not agree to it and stated: "We must have the roll call." I then went to President of the Board Dierker, and urged him to rule that the roll call be dispensed with as being useless in meetings of this kind, and for him to state that balloting would be commenced at once.

He called some of the other directors and others high in their council and consulted with them, and then called me up to him and stated that he would rule that the roll would have to be called. And rather than make a dissension in the meeting I allowed both he and Mr. Armor to have their way about it, believing the results would be the same even though it took longer to get them.

In his fourth statement he states that he expected some one to make a motion that we proceed to ballot.

How preposterous! What did we go to the meeting for except to ballot? If Mr. Dierker had known there were sufficient votes favorable to carry the three questions proposed to be voted on, does anyone think he would have awaited a motion to proceed to balloting?

Now, Mr. George Dierker, if I may be so bold as to ask it, why did you require the roll to be called when you knew it to be useless? You cannot claim it as an oversight, as did Mr. Armor for you, in the other matter, for it was distinctly brought to your attention and you were urged to rule against it. Is the time, the rights, the feelings and the conveniences of the stockholders of so little consequence that they may be called together and held for hours, while an unnecessary, and therefore frivolous, proceeding was being enacted?

"Oh, dear, I wish our Teddy would come home with his 'Big Stick,' so this Ballingerising could be stopped.

Yours truly,
S. J. JACKMAN.

ECLIPSE ON MONDAY WILL GIVE RARE VIEW OF COMET

Visitor Will be Glorious Object
When Earth Passes Between Sun and Moon

Additional Wonder Possible
When Globe Passes Through the Brilliant Tail

If you care to see how we and the world on which we live will be situated next Wednesday when we pass through the tail of the comet, get up before daylight tomorrow morning and think of that bright planet Venus as shifted over into the tail's mysterious glare, well out toward the end of the apparition. Make Venus a little larger and brighter in your thought and you may readily imagine how this earth will appear to that sister planet of hers on Wednesday.

Spectacle of Beauty

Whatever may result from the world-wide application of scientific salt to the misunderstood appendage, the chief value of the comet and its tail will remain in the spectacular beauty of the distinguished visitor and its excellent influence in getting the people to look up into the skies at night and think and question about the glories that are ever visible there.

But for this comet, in itself of no practical significance for us, the coming total eclipse of the moon would pass with almost as little attention as was given its companion phenomenon six months ago. The next full moon, on Monday night, May 23, will be fully obscured by the earth passing between it and the sun; but you have heard about it, if at all, only because the eclipse will afford a favorable time in which to observe and photograph the comet.

The sun was totally eclipsed at the beginning of the week, though the eclipse was not observable in this part of the world.

Display Comes Wednesday

Halley's comet is rapidly moving down toward the sun and away to the left from Venus. It may be seen in the morning until next Monday, and under favorable conditions the tail may be observed even on the morning of Wednesday, the day of the comet's transit across the disk of the sun.

Early next Wednesday evening, when the sun shall have set from the gaze of the people in the East though still visible to us, the head of the comet will begin the transit, moving from westward to eastward, and will pass the sun in about an hour. The

AS TO ROAD AND STREET WORK

In the conditions appertaining to good roads construction in Los Angeles County, and to street work in the City of Los Angeles, may be found a valuable lesson for the Orange County supervisors and good roads commissioners—not to mention the City Trustees of Santa Ana.

As it has been with street work in this city, so it is with good roads construction in Los Angeles County—contractors are said to be not over-anxious to bid on road work under the $3,500,000 bond issue. Wonder why—can it be that they have divided the work up among themselves? If so, or if there is any lack of enthusiasm in bidding, it would be a brainy scheme for the county to do the work and save the contractors' profits.

A city or county that is equipped—or can equip itself on a practically economic basis—for doing its own street or road work has no business letting such work to private contractors. Home labor, and as far as possible home materials and machinery should be employed in all public work.

On this subject attention is called to an item in the Los Angeles papers giving an account of a piece of work just done by that municipality after rejecting the bids of contractors. The work was the construction of an ornamental coping and railing on the new Main street bridge. When the work was advertised for bids, the lowest one received was $6638, and the contractor asked for forty days in which to perform the contract. The board of public works rejected all bids and put the city engineer on the job. The latter did the work in 28 days and at a total cost of $3859.65. The city saved by the transaction the sum of $2778.35 or over forty per cent on the lowest bid tendered.

EASY TO BLAME TARIFF

How easy it is to blame the tariff! Very few can know that you are putting up a job on them by ascribing your own faults to the tariff. The trusts have been laying the high price of the necessities of life to the tariff, because they know of the difficulties of proving to the contrary. It takes time to try out tariff and while that is going on no end of false impressions can be lodged in the public mind which it will be impossible to entirely remove. The time has come, however, when such detractors of the tariff will have to face some facts and figures that won't fit in with their creeds.

Ten months under the Payne tariff bill show, for instance, that on the importations, as compared with those under the old tariff law, there is a reduction in schedule rates of $15,000,000. Now what about "revision downwards"? To listen to some of our Democratic friends and their Republican allies one would suppose that the new tariff law raised the duties on imports. It was a clear case of "revision downward" and they know it, or ought to know it if they do not.

The fact that there is an increase of revenue from the tariff will now be pointed to by these people as a proof that rates were increased, when as a matter of fact the increase in customs revenue collected is due to the increase of imports. You can fix a duty at a figure that will keep out all importations in any line, or you can fix it at a figure that will encourage importations, and that is just what has happened.

The increase of importations has resulted in an increase of customs duties collected to nearly $38,000,000 in the ten months preceding May 3, 1910, as compared with the like period in 1909. It is thus furnishing the government with funds, which is the first requisite of a tariff, and while under the old tariff law the government was running behind it is now ahead of the hounds. Its receipts have increased and its expenditures have decreased. This reversed the condition that prevailed when the present administration came into power. So the new tariff law shows up better than any we have ever had and with Taft cutting the expenses everything is going as it should, except congress. Congress is the sore spot on the body politic today, and unless it can either be persuaded or scared into carrying out the president's recommendations as contained in his messages, the G. O. P. will be up against it at the next election.

How's Edna?

"How's Edna?" is the newest of all comedies, especially written for a big eastern production. She is being tried out in the far western states and is now on her way to Frisco.

It is a farce on the order of "Charley's Aunt," but much more Frenchy. She is the very latest thing in French farce—something the big managers are clamoring for and are watching with the eye of an eagle. Here tonight, May 14.

TWO GREAT FAIRS FOR CALIFORNIA

(From the Riverside Press.)

The controversy which has been waged for some time between San Diego and San Francisco regarding the holding of an exposition in recognition of the opening of the Panama canal has been settled by a compromise which provides for two fairs, both to be held in 1915, but to be of such a different scope and character that it is claimed there will be no competition between them. Senator Flint and Congressman Smith had stood by San Diego in this matter and the compromise finally agreed to was planned by them. It was submitted to the representatives of the two exposition companies who are now in Washington by Senator Flint and its leading features are as follows:

The entire California delegation in congress will favor and do all in its power to pass a resolution inviting all the nations of the world to participate in a fair to be held in San Francisco in 1915, and thereafter the delegation would favor and do all in its power to pass another resolution inviting the government of Mexico and the nations of Central and South America to participate in an exposition to be held during 1915 in the city of San Diego.

This San Diego exposition is to be devoted to a demonstration of irrigation, cultivation and reforestation of arid lands, and of the development and resources of the great southwest and to such an exhibition illustrative of the lives and the tribal history of the various Indian tribes and natives of the United States and Central and South America as will arrest at once the attention and the interest of ethnologists the world over in a race that is fast passing away. Such an exhibition will be in a measure to curtail and cripple both. Even though planned on somewhat different lines, they will compete rather than co-operate and each will detract from the attendance and success of the other. However the compromise arrangement has been entered into by the representatives of the two cities and will have to be accepted by the rest of the state.

San Diego already has $1,000,000 subscribed towards her fair and the chances seem good that the city will vote bonds for $1,000,000 more which will be used in improving the exposition grounds and erecting buildings. Add to that an appropriation from the state, which is practically assured by the agreement entered into with San Francisco, and the total will be a sum that should insure a unique and interesting fair. San Diego is undertaking a great deal in planning an exposition of this sort and the people of that city have shown a splendid spirit of enterprise in the matter. They deserve well of Southern California and we have no doubt that when the time comes will receive the hearty co-operation of the other counties in this part of the state.

Roadhouse-Hall

"Stealing a march" on his congregation and his many friends in this community, Rev. A. F. Roadhouse, the young and well liked pastor of the First Christian church, slipped off to Redlands last Tuesday and took to himself a wife. An eligible bachelor preacher is a prize not to be lightly valued and with so many charming maidens in his church, it seemed a foregone conclusion that Rev. Roadhouse would prevail on some one of them to become the mistress of the manse. But cupid and a fair widow of Redlands decreed otherwise and on Tuesday evening, May 10, Mrs. Hall of Redlands became the bride of the popular minister, the marriage taking place in Redlands. A short honeymoon at San Diego was followed by the homecoming today of Rev. Roadhouse and his bride, who is the daughter of Rev. Pearl, pastor of the Redlands Christian church. They will receive a most hearty welcome from the church people and from all the friends of Mr. Roadhouse, who are many. Good wishes galore for unbounded happiness and prosperity will greet them.

President Blaisdell Here Tomorrow

President James A. Blaisdell, D. D., of Pomona College, will spend tomorrow in Santa Ana, speaking in the Congregational church in the morning and in the First Presbyterian church in the evening. Dr. Blaisdell made a favorable impression during his recent visit to this city when he delivered the sermon at the dedication of the Congregational church. Whenever he speaks he is recognized as a man of forceful personality, clear-cut thinking and is taking his place as a leader in educational and religious circles on the Coast. He will present the needs and opportunities of Christian education in his addresses tomorrow. As Pomona College receives many students from Santa Ana it has a large circle of friends in this city.

Change Social

The Royal Neighbors will give a change social at Fraternal Brotherhood Hall next Tuesday night, May 17. All Modern Woodmen and their friends and any visiting Royal Neighbors are cordially invited. Program to begin at 8 o'clock sharp. So come for a change, with your change, and see what we're going to do.

A Wedding Trip

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hankey, accompanied by their little daughter, Dorothy, went to Mt. Lowe this morning to remain until tomorrow evening. They are celebrating their twentieth wedding anniversary, it being their custom to go to some point of interest each year at this date.

Leaving of the Worrells

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Worrell will soon leave for Pasadena, where they will make their permanent home. They will ship their household goods overland next Monday and on that day will go to Newport Beach for a week's stay at their cottage there. They will entertain Mr. Worrell's brother, Wm. N. Worrell, and wife, of Shenandoah, Iowa, during the week, and will leave on Monday, May 25, for Pasadena.

The Worrells have built them a pretty home on a beautiful acreage tract they own near the Crown City, and are expecting a great deal of pleasure in their new location. The place is improved with shade trees and all sorts of fruit trees and will yield a nice living. They still retain two residence properties in Santa Ana. While their host of friends regret to know of their removal from times in Santa Ana with pleasure to her audience, will sing at the First Baptist church in the morning service tomorrow, Sunday.

Mothers' and Baby's Day

LOS ANGELES, May 14.—The second day's session of the State Convention proved profitable and of growing interest.

A very attractive part of the program on Friday morning was the Scripture Reading contest by county presidents. Mrs. E. B. Norman, county president of Orange county, W.C.T.U., took part in this contest. No prizes were given. The key note of each chapter was brought out.

Friday afternoon was "Mother's" part of the program. Each county was asked to rise and have some one of the delegation sing a verse of the "song that mother used to sing." Mrs. Shatto of Tustin sang "Rock of Ages" for Orange county.

A school for mothers was held, thirty mothers taking part. It was quite laughable to hear the ludicrous answers to such questions as: "What do you do for the baby with colic?" "What do you do with your children on Sunday?" "How do you let the children spend the pennies?" "How do you want your boy to vote?" "What do you mothers do for that tired feeling?" "What do you want your children to learn at school?"

Mrs. Fitzgerald, a visitor to the school, summed up the lessons she had heard, and thought that some of the pupils needed different training than that shown by their answers.

Rev. Charles Locke of the convention church gave a cordial welcome to the convention and made some rousing remarks in favor of the W.C.T.U.

A very beautiful baby contest was held. Six small children each recited a temperance piece. They were from Pasadena and were in charge of Miss Ida Crosby, elocutionist. The judges awarded the silver L.T.L. medal to Alice Hall.

The White Ribbon recruits were brought in and introduced, twelve babies with their mothers going to the platform.

One of the most touching scenes of that part of the program was the introduction of Mrs. Boleyn from Peoria, Ill. Two years ago Mrs. Boleyn lost her baby, and after taking a trip East, was returning sad without her baby, when on the train, a young woman came to her and put a two-months-old baby in her arms and asked her to keep it for her until she returned. Time went on and the woman did not return. When the basket containing the baby's belongings was opened, a note was found from the young woman, saying that the baby had been left in her care to be given to the first woman she saw wearing a white ribbon.

Miss Ava Wells spent today in the city.

Mrs. H. D. Connell was a visitor to Los Angeles this morning.

Harry Perry of Los Angeles, is visiting friends in Santa Ana until after Sunday.

The Misses Yoch went to Los Angeles this morning.

Who Will Get the Piano?

Quite a number are working hard and you had better get in line or you will get left.

Our piano certificates in 5 and 10 cent denominations are running low, and we would like very much if those holding a number of them would call and exchange them for certificates of larger denomination.

SHIPMENTS OF ORANGES BEGIN

Fullerton is Short on Pickers—

New $4000 Residence
Going up

FULLERTON, May 13.—The shipment of oranges this week has been unusually large. Now that the navel season is closing, growers are experiencing considerable difficulty in getting sufficient help to pick the fruit and the shipments may be slightly delayed. This is accounted for in a measure by the call for pickers in the berry fields. Cash prices remain unsettled, but $2 for fancy orchard run from the best districts is the general asking price, with figures for fruit from other districts ranging from $1.75 to $1.90.

T. W. Wood of Los Angeles, who recently purchased a nine-acre walnut grove on South Spadra, will begin the erection of a $4000 residence immediately, and will make this city his home. This house will add greatly to the appearance of the section in which it is to be built.

TUSTIN ENJOYED
FINE INSTITUTE

Horticultural and Farm Topics
Were Presented by Able Speakers

Another successful Farmers' Institute was held in Tustin on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. That these sessions are growing in popularity among the farmers and fruit growers was demonstrated by the good attendance and the lively interest taken in the discussions that followed the papers and talks. The committee of arrangements desires to express its grateful appreciation to Prof. and Madame G. F. Andrist for taking charge of the musical part of the program. Their musical numbers with which each session was opened, contributed very materially to the enjoyment of the occasion.

The program covered a wide range of subjects, from bugs and birds down to good roads, commercial fertilizers and pumping plants. Indeed, it is characteristic of the work of these institutes that they endeavor to serve all interests. It would be difficult to single out from a program of such uniform excellence any particular paper or talk for special mention. It goes without saying that Mr. Utt always has something interesting to say, and his discussion of pumping plants vs. gravity systems was full of information.

So also was Mr. Armour's paper on our water supply. Few people probably have any clear idea of the facts and figures regarding the water system of our county, such as the sources of supply, the quantities available, the methods of distribution among the various users, the origin and history of the various water companies, and the possibilities of further development. All these points and many others were succinctly set forth in Mr. Armour's admirable sketch. This paper by Mr. Armour is to form a chapter in his "History of Orange County" upon which he is now at work.

The Institute opened at 10:30 Tuesday morning with a violin selection by Prof. Andrist with piano accompaniment by Madame Andrist. Judge Stutsman welcomed the visiting delegation in his usual happy manner, expressing his conviction of the substantial value of these institutes to the community and the need of closer cooperation between all workers in the solution of the various problems of the rancher and orchardist.

Following a brief response by Mr. J. B. Neff, the director of the Farmers' Institutes, Prof. W. T. Clarke of the University of California was introduced and proceeded to discuss the subject of "Insects, Beneficial and Injurious." He said he should not attempt to deal with our local conditions and needs, inasmuch as our own horticultural commissioner, Mr. Bishop, was down on the program for a talk on "Insect Control," and would naturally be more competent to deal with the local situation. Prof. Clarke therefore confined his remarks to the more general aspect of the subject. He emphasized especially the need of first studying systematically and thoroughly the life history and habits of predatory insects. If we do not know how the insect works, how it develops, etc., our efforts at control will be hazardous and unavailing. Many insects, for instance, can be destroyed only at a certain stage of its development. Prof. Clarke insisted that the orchardist should aim at what he termed "commercial" control, that is complete extermination, as against mere "esthetic" control which allowed some to remain. Success in the market demands the first kind of control, and this will be increasingly true as competition becomes keener. Fruit that has to be washed and brushed will be graded as inferior stock and will cut down the grower's profits.

On Wednesday morning Mr. Roy K. Bishop, our efficient horticultural commissioner, dealt interestingly with the subject of Insect Control with special reference to conditions in this county. Mr. Bishop has an office in the courthouse and is collecting a large mass of literature on horticultural questions, which he invited all persons to avail themselves of. Mr. Bishop seems to have an innate fondness for "bugology," which was demonstrated by the large number of specimens of various kinds and descriptions which he brought with him sealed up in glass tubes and which were passed around in the audience for inspection. Mr. Bishop remarked that his little boy usually greeted him on his return home with the question, "Papa, what kind of bugs have you got now?" The speaker pointed out the various methods of control of scale pests, and expressed his belief that ultimately the most effective method would be that of destroying them by natural enemies or parasites.

The afternoon session was opened with music by Professor and Madame Andrist.

Prof. J. H. Norton then spoke of the Practical Use of Fertilizers and advised the use of the fertilizer that contained phosphates. The cause of fruit being rough is the lack of nitrogen and potash in the soil, but once a year is often enough to put on nitrate of potash—spring being the better time—and then plow it well in. Deep plowing was again advised, at least nine inches. If it has not been done before begin by plowing about an inch deeper each year. If deep plowing is followed a grove will get along with less fertilizing.

The evening session was opened by Prof. and Madame Andrist and a part of their orchestra.

Miss Libby then spoke very interestingly on the California birds, both useful and harmful.

The English sparrow which was brought here in 1850 is harmful. The goldfinch and mourning dove are of use as they feed mostly on seed weeds. The quail is also of use as a destroyer. The meadow lark, night hawk and the barn and cliff martins are good destroyers of insects, mice, rats and other varmint. The kingbird or bee martin is of very great use in destroying the drone bees and the insects of the ground. The linnet, which is complained of most, has been found to be of more use than many other birds, as it eats more weed seeds than other birds. Many people say the linnet destroys fruit but the experiment has been tried of planting mulberry trees in the orchard. The scheme has been tried and proven satisfactory in the Imperial Valley. The species of mulberry most planted was the Early Russian and New American. The small birds of which the black headed grosbeak is one, destroy olive scale. The butcher bird, though very much in the habit of killing the smaller buds, is useful in killing mice. The hawks and owls do more good work in the way of saving crops by destroying small animals. The barn owl is said to eat its own weight in food every night. The lecture ended with the sentence, "Does it pay the farmer to protect the birds?"

Another musical selection was enjoyed, after which a vote of thanks was extended to the members of the Institute and the musicians who helped make his institute the success it has been and an invitation was extended for them to come to us again.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Outside the heavy trading on the market yesterday morning, there were few, if any, features. The price of eggs advanced 1 cent, putting canded stock up to 27 cents and case count to 24 cents a dozen. Demand and smaller receipts were given as the cause of the increase. Arrivals totaled only 346 cases yesterday. A few eggs were also received from Petaluma, and they were very firm.

Control on left-hand side--Shaft drive

One of the smaller reasons—but a mighty good one—for choosing the Reo is that the driver's seat is on the left-hand side of the car.

Neither does the other front-seat passenger.

The left-hand drive avoids all this difficulty. Easy to get out—for both passenger and driver.

Every detail of the Reo is thought out in this same careful way. Every cent counts for genuine service.

Come let us show you the practical value of the left hand drive and the thoroughbred qualities of the Reo.

WHO'LL GET THE OVERLANDS?

CAR LOAD OF OVERLANDS

Now Ready for Delivery--Won't have a Better Chance to Furnish you One than we Now have

The Average Sales by Dealers on Overland Cars now exceeds $200,000 per Day--The Reason Why.

Matchless Simplicity

Overland cars are the choice of hundreds of experts. But they appeal above all to men who run their own cars. That's why you see so many on Sunday afternoons.

There is no other car which is nearly so simple. Three of the models operate by pedal control. One simply pushes pedals backward or forward to get on low speed, high speed or reverse. It is as simple and natural as walking.

The designers of the Overland have immensely reduced the usual number of parts. One piece is made to take the place of many. This reduces the danger of trouble.

The Overland Roadster, Model 38. Price $1100

This is the new car of the year. It has power, speed and never failing quality. On account of its simple control it is the ideal car for women.

And each of these prices from the lowest to the highest includes 5 lamps, magneto, generator, tools, tire repair kit, pump and jack.

The best of the Overlands—embodying all that any man can want—sells for $1650.

Overland Delivery Wagon PRICE $1200

This is the car thousands of people have been waiting for. A light delivery wagon, combining reliability, economy, ease of control and carrying capacity. Carrying capacity 800 pounds exclusive of passengers. Speed range from 4 to 40 miles an hour.

Carrying government mails it has actually done the work of three horse wagons.

This is a real automobile, a high class easy riding car far superior to any of the ordinary delivery cars.

Facts From Ford

We have the famous Fords now for immediate delivery. Nothing cheap about them but the price. A Ford Model T, 5 passenger touring car is the greatest family car on the market. The long wheel base, the special spring construction, all combine to make it extremely easy riding and "Ford policy" guarantees durability and efficiency. Fords are the most economical cars, mile for mile, on the market.
